

HUDSONVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS ELEMENTARY COURSE FRAMEWORK

COURSE/SUBJECT

First Grade Reading

| UNIT PACINGNames of units and approximate pacing   | UNIT LEARNING TARGETSBy the end of the unit, students will be able to...   | STANDARDWhich Common Core standards does this address?  | ASSESSMENTSWhich assessments are given to determine student growth?   |
|---|---|--|--|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 1: Readers Build Good Habits September/October | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can retell stories, including important details.</li> <li>• I can show that I understand the central message or lesson of a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the settings in a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the major events in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the setting in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe events in a story.</li> <li>• I can compare the adventures and experiences of characters in stories by telling how they are alike.</li> <li>• I can contrast the adventures and experiences of characters in stories by telling how they are different.</li> <li>• I can follow classroom rules for listening and talking to others (e.g., listening to others with care, speaking one at a time).</li> <li>• I can be part of a conversation by listening and talking.</li> <li>• I can ask questions during a conversation to help me understand.</li> <li>• I can ask and answer questions about what is said to help me better understand.</li> </ul> | RL.1.2                     RL.1.3                     RL.1.7                     RL.1.9                     SL.1.1. | Fountas and Pinnell Reading Benchmark Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |

|  |  |  |   |
|--|--|--|---|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 2: Tackling Trouble: When Readers Come to Hard Words and Tricky Parts of Books, We Try Harder and Harder October/November | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can find the important parts of a sentence.</li> <li>• I can tell the difference between short and long vowel sounds when I say or hear one-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can blend sounds together to say a word.</li> <li>• I can separate and say the beginning, middle/vowel, and end sound in one-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can stretch out the sounds of a one-syllable word that I say into all of the individual sounds.</li> <li>• I can make the new sound 2 consonants make when they are together.</li> <li>• I can write the 2 letters that make the new sound.</li> <li>• I can break apart and read one syllable words.</li> <li>• I can use the magic /e/ and vowel teams to read words.</li> <li>• I can understand that all syllables have a vowel sound.</li> <li>• I can find the number of syllables in a word by counting the vowel sounds. I can follow classroom rules for listening and talking to others (e.g., listening to others with care, speaking one at a time).</li> <li>• I can break apart and sound out two-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can read words that end in -s, -ed, or -ing.</li> <li>• I can read and understand first grade level fiction and information text.</li> <li>• I can read first grade level text out loud at an appropriate speed, with expression, and without making many mistakes.</li> <li>• I can use context clues to self-correct and re-read when something doesn't sound right, look right or make sense.</li> <li>• I can be part of a conversation by listening and talking.</li> <li>• I can ask questions during a conversation to help me understand.</li> <li>• I can ask and answer questions about what is said to help me better understand.</li> </ul> | RF.1.1RF.1.2RF.1.3RF.1.4SL.1.1. | Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |
|--|--|--|---|

|  |   |  |   |
|--|---|--|---|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 3: Readers Meet the Characters in Our Books November/December | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can use important details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the settings in a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the major events in a story.</li> <li>• I can identify words and phrases in stories and poems that describe feelings.</li> <li>• I can identify words and phrases in stories and poems that help me know how something smells, tastes, feels, looks or sounds.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the setting in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe events in a story.</li> <li>• I can read and understand first grade level fiction and information text.</li> <li>• I can read first grade level text out loud at an appropriate speed, with expression, and without making many mistakes.</li> <li>• I can use context clues to self-correct and re-read when something doesn't sound right, look right or make sense.</li> <li>• I can be part of a conversation by listening and talking.</li> <li>• I can ask questions during a conversation to help me understand.</li> <li>• I can ask and answer questions about what is said to help me better understand.</li> </ul> | RL.1.3 RL.1.4 RL.1.7 RF.1.4 SL.1.1. | Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |
|--|---|--|---|

|  |  |  |   |
|--|--|--|---|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 4: Nonfiction Readers Learn about the World January | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can ask questions about important details in an informational text.</li> <li>• I can answer questions about important details in an informational text.</li> <li>• I can tell the main idea of a text.</li> <li>• I can retell important details about the topic.</li> <li>• I can tell how two people in a text are connected. (e.g., presidents, community helpers, students in the same class.)</li> <li>• I can tell how two events in a text are connected.</li> <li>• I can tell how two pieces of information in a text are connected.</li> <li>• I can ask and answer questions to learn or better understand the meaning of words and phrases.</li> <li>• I can use text features (e.g., headings, tables of contents, glossaries, icons) to find important facts and information in a text.</li> <li>• I can tell the difference between the information I find from pictures and illustrations and the information I find from reading the words.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the main ideas in a text.</li> <li>• I can find the reasons the author gives to support ideas in a text.</li> <li>• I can tell how two informational books on the same topic are the same and different (e.g., in illustrations, descriptions, or procedures).</li> <li>• With help, I can read and understand grade level informational text.</li> <li>• I can participate in small and large group discussions with students and adults.</li> </ul> | RI.1.1 RI.1.2 RI.1.3 RI.1.4 RI.1.5 RI.1.6 RI.1.7 RI.1.8 RI.1.9 RI.1.10 RF.1.3 RF.1.4 SL.1.1 | Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |
|--|--|--|---|

|   |   |  |  |
|---|---|--|--|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 5: We Can Be Our Own Teachers When We Work Hard to Figure Out Words February | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can tell the difference between short and long vowel sounds when I say or hear one-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can blend sounds together to say a word.</li> <li>• I can separate and say the beginning, middle/vowel, and end sound in one-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can stretch out the sounds of a one-syllable word that I say into all of the individual sounds.</li> <li>• I can make the new sound 2 consonants make when they are together.</li> <li>• I can write the 2 letters that make the new sound.</li> <li>• I can break apart and read one syllable words.</li> <li>• I can use the magic /e/ and vowel teams to read words.</li> <li>• I can understand that all syllables have a vowel sound.</li> <li>• I can break apart and sound out two-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can read words that end in -s, -ed, or -ing.</li> <li>• I can find and read first grade words that break the spelling rules.</li> <li>• I can find the number of syllables in a word by counting the vowel sounds.</li> <li>• I can read and understand first grade level fiction and information text.</li> <li>• I can read first grade level text out loud at an appropriate speed, with expression, and without making many mistakes.</li> <li>• I can use context clues to self-correct and re-read when something doesn't sound right, look right or make sense.</li> <li>• I can retell (put it my own words) stories, including important details.</li> <li>• I can show that I understand the central message or lesson of a story.</li> <li>• I can identify words and phrases in stories and poems that describe feelings.</li> <li>• I can identify words and phrases in stories and poems that help me know how something smells, tastes, feels, looks or sounds.</li> <li>• I can participate in small and large group discussions with students and adults.</li> </ul> | RF.1.2RF.1.3RF.1.4RL.1.2RL.1.4SL.1.1 | Fountas and Pinnell Reading Benchmark Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |
|---|---|--|--|

|   |   |  |   |
|---|---|--|---|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 6: Reading across Genres to Learn about a Topic: Informational Books, Stories, and Poems March | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can tell the difference between short and long vowel sounds when I say or hear one-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can blend sounds together to say a word.</li> <li>• I can separate and say the beginning, middle/vowel, and end sound in one-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can stretch out the sounds of a one-syllable word that I say into all of the individual sounds.</li> <li>• I can make the new sound 2 consonants make when they are together.</li> <li>• I can write the 2 letters that make the new sound.</li> <li>• I can break apart and read one syllable words.</li> <li>• I can use the magic /e/ and vowel teams to read words.</li> <li>• I can understand that all syllables have a vowel sound.</li> <li>• I can break apart and sound out two-syllable words.</li> <li>• I can read words that end in -s, -ed, or -ing.</li> <li>• I can find and read first grade words that break the spelling rules.</li> <li>• I can find the number of syllables in a word by counting the vowel sounds.</li> <li>• I can read and understand first grade level fiction and information text.</li> <li>• I can read first grade level text out loud at an appropriate speed, with expression, and without making many mistakes.</li> <li>• I can use context clues to self-correct and re-read when something doesn't sound right, look right or make sense.</li> <li>• I can explain the differences between books that tell a story and books that teach me about a topic.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the setting in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe events in a story.</li> <li>• With help, I can read first grade level stories and poetry and informational text.</li> <li>• I can tell the main idea of a text.</li> <li>• I can retell important details about the topic.</li> <li>• I can tell how two people in a text are connected. (e.g., presidents, community helpers, students in the same class.)</li> <li>• I can tell how two events in a text are connected.</li> <li>• I can tell how two pieces of information in a text are connected.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the main ideas in a text.</li> <li>• I can tell how two informational books on the same topic are the same and different (e.g., in illustrations, descriptions, or procedures).</li> </ul> | RF.1.2RF.1.3RF.1.4RL.1.5RL.1.7RL.1.10RI.1.2RI.1.3RI.1.7RI.1.9RI.1.10SL.1.1 | Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |
|---|---|--|---|

|  |  |  |  |
|--|--|--|--|
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 7: Dramatizing Character and Deepening Our Comprehension in Reading Clubs April/May | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can use important details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the settings in a story.</li> <li>• I can use important details to describe the major events in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the characters in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the setting in a story.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe events in a story.</li> <li>• I can compare the adventures and experiences of characters in stories by telling how they are alike.</li> <li>• I can contrast the adventures and experiences of characters in stories by telling how they are different.</li> <li>• I can read and understand first grade level fiction and information text.</li> <li>• I can read first grade level text out loud at an appropriate speed, with expression, and without making many mistakes.</li> <li>• I can use context clues to self-correct and re-read when something doesn't sound right, look right or make sense.</li> </ul>   | RL.1.3RL.1.7RL.1.9RF.1.4SL.1.1  | Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets  |
| A Curricular Plan for Reading and Writing Workshop Grade 1 by Lucy Calkins and Colleagues Unit 8: Readers Can Read about Science Topics to Become Experts May/June                 | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I can ask questions about important details in an informational text.</li> <li>• I can answer questions about important details in an informational text.</li> <li>• I can tell the main idea of a text.</li> <li>• I can retell important details about the topic.</li> <li>• I can tell how two people in a text are connected. (e.g., presidents, community helpers, students in the same class.)</li> <li>• I can tell how two events in a text are connected.</li> <li>• I can tell how two pieces of information in a text are connected.</li> <li>• I can ask and answer questions to learn or better understand the meaning of words and phrases.</li> <li>• I can use text features (e.g., headings, tables of contents, glossaries, icons) to find important facts and information in a text.</li> <li>• I can tell the difference between the information I find from pictures and illustrations and the information I find from reading the words.</li> <li>• I can use illustrations and details to describe the main ideas in a text.</li> <li>• I can find the reasons the author gives to support ideas in a text.</li> <li>• I can tell how two informational books on the same topic are the same and different (e.g., in illustrations, descriptions, or procedures).</li> <li>• With help, I can read and understand grade level informational text.</li> <li>• I can participate in small and large group discussions with students and adults.</li> </ul> | RI.1.1RI.1.2RI.1.3RI.1.4RI.1.5RI.1.6RI.1.7RI.1.8RI.1.9RI.1.10RF.1.3RF.1.4SL.1.1 | Fountas and Pinnell Reading Benchmark Conferring Frequent formative assessments based on learning targets |